

LATEST EDITION.

MORIN'S SLAYER.

Miss. Clovis-Hugues on Trial for Killing Her Traitor.

The Beautiful Defendant's Self-Possession—Prince Albert Victor's Twenty-First Birthday—Submarine Shoals—The Earthquake in Spain—Foreign News.

MRS. CLOVIS-HUGUES.

The Woman who Killed Morin in Defense of Her Honor.

France.

Mrs. Clovis-Hugues's Trial.

Paris, January 8.—The trial of Mrs. Clovis-Hugues for the murder of her husband, Prince Albert Victor, was held this morning at the Court of Assizes.

The court room was crowded to overflowing, many diplomats and other persons of distinction being present.

During the reading of the indictment, Madame Clovis-Hugues was asked to stand, and she did so with a firmness to the questions.

She admitted that the shooting was premeditated, and declared that ever since May 21 she had been resolved to kill her husband. The investigation as regards the facts leading to the shooting developed nothing new.

South America.

A Transport Abandoned.

Valparaiso, via Guayaquil, January 8.—The Captain of the German steamer Isis has passed the bay of Matanzas in Long Reach and the Chilean ironclad Blanco Encalada, in Cape Urdinola, steamer to Punta Arenas. He therefore presumes the transport Angamos has been abandoned.

Further states that on the 30th ult. he passed the Angamos and signalled her, but received no answer.

Central America.

PANAMA'S PRESIDENT.

PANAMA, January 8 (via Galveston).—General Santa Domingo Villa has been elected President for the State of Panama, and will be duly installed to-day.

H. B. M. Switzer, the flag of the Pacific squadron, and the Matine have arrived.

Newfoundland.

St. John's, Nfld., January 7.—The British bark Isabel, from Cadiz, reports passing a large Norwegian bark on the 30th ult. The name of the bark is the Alhama of Arendal. No vestige of a crew was found.

Two days previous the Isabel experienced terrific earthquake shocks, lasting fifteen minutes; thunderous submarine roaring, appalling all, and the ship shaken in every fibre. The crew, paralyzed with fear, broke through all discipline and cut the boats loose. The cessation of the shocks restored tranquillity on board. The weather was calm and fine at the time.

England.

PRINCE ALBERT VICTOR TWENTY-ONE.

LONDON, January 8.—Prince Albert Victor of Wales, heir presumptive to the British throne, attained his majority to-day. The event was made the occasion of rejoicings throughout the country.

In London the day opened with the ringing of bells, hoisting of flags and music at St. James' Palace. The University of Cambridge sent an address of congratulation to the young prince.

The Black Watch Regiment.

CLARENCE, January 8.—The Black Watch Regiment started from Kori for Mowai to-day.

Spain.

FRESH BARRICADE SHOTS.

MADRID, January 8.—Fresh cartridge shots were felt yesterday at Nerja and Veles in Malaga. Several houses were damaged.

The Illinois Legislature.

Haines Happy, but Conscience and His Friends Furious.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., January 8.—A thirty-minute session of the Senate to-day was productive of half a dozen or more bills. Senator Clough of Cook introduced Number eight, which amends the election law, abolishing the feature of receiving votes on affidavits and closing the registry lists one week before election day.

The Democratic caucus, which looked the presence of Mr. Haines last night, decided to make Haines temporary speaker and voting for a few days to let Clough drive away and then make the election of Haines permanent. Clough protested against such a scheme in vain. Sitting, the Republican representative from Chicago, who is anxious to defend Haines, voted for Haines. Haines received ten votes from Messrs. Haines did not vote and the Democrats added seventy-six votes for Haines to Clough's. Messrs. Haines received the remaining fifty-four Republican votes and Haines was elected by a majority vote. Upon accepting the temporary chairmanship, Haines said he did to because of the non-partisan character of the vote. He would not have accepted it on a party vote.

Senator Bridges has been sent home helplessly ill from prostration of the nervous system, and his vote in the Senate is paired by a leave of absence granted the Senator for one week. In the House the Republicans are delaying proceedings by all sorts of dilatory motions, in hope that the sick Democratic members will be unable to attend.

Senator Bridges has been sent home helplessly ill from prostration of the nervous system, and his vote in the Senate is paired by a leave of absence granted the Senator for one week. In the House the Republicans are delaying proceedings by all sorts of dilatory motions, in hope that the sick Democratic members will be unable to attend.

FOR THE INAUGURATION.

CHICAGO, January 8.—The passenger agents of the Eastern roads to-day made the round trip from Chicago to Washington during the inauguration trip, destined to Washington D. C.

A Tailor's Failure.

CHICAGO, January 8.—Wm. J. Mack, merchant tailor, assigned to D. M. Hyman; assets $12,000. The liabilities are estimated at $25,000. The preferences are Chas. Hendel, $1,000; James M. Morrissey, $300; Seagoing Sons & Co., $200.

Relief from Freight Delays.

ALBANY, N. Y., January 8.—The Railroad Commissioners will give a hearing in the Chamber of Commerce, New York, January 30, at 10 a. m., in relation to complaints of traders and travelers against the system of diversion of freight, practiced by the trunk lines entering New York, and the application of prominent merchants making that legislation be had regarding such matters. By the system freight is delivered considerably.

SAVED THEIR SOULS.

The Peculiar Conduct of Public Officials at Shelbyville, Ill.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

SHREVEPORT, La., January 8.—A few days since warrants were issued for the arrest of three individuals who were charged with the murder of a man who had offered a reward for the arrest and conviction of the guilty parties. One of the boys is the son of Mayor Hart, another of the City Clerk.

These officials, before the papers could be served, induced the boys to appear before the Mayor and the City Clerk, and were then freed, but the man who was instrumental in their detection now demands the reward. This action the City Fathers have declined payment, and a suit will likely grow out of it. Great interest is manifested in the matter because of the standing of the parties interested.

THEY HAD CLUBS ALSO.

How Lot Wright Filled Out His Deputies' Equipments.

Negro Marshals Sent to an Irish Ward to Keep the Peace—A Deputy's Construction of an Assault on the United States—Springer Committee Proceedings.

CHICAGO, January 8.—The Springer investigating committee had Charles W. Baker as a witness to-day. Much time was spent in discussion as to the admissibility of his evidence. The witness is a Democrat and acted as attorney on election day for the Chicago Ward 12.

The United States Commissioner in the United States Court-room. He described the scenes there where the reserve force of United States marshals was kept and from which they were dispatched to different wards to enforce the law.

One of these detachments was called to the Coliseum Ward. Colored men were sent, knowing that the ward contained a large Irish population, and being certain that they would be attacked by the Irish.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

REAGAN REJOICING.

The Interstate Commerce Bill Passed by the House.

A Bill to Protect Pensioners—Belmont Witnesses in the Indian Land Fraud Investigation Sent After-Night Sessions Necessary for the Consideration of the Canal Bill.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 8.—The Indian National seems to be getting up a small rebellion. Two of its most important witnesses in relation to the recent charges of fraud in the business of the nation have departed the city of Congress.

To-day the House Committee, which has been trying for a year to make the investigation of the frauds and the alleged bribery of the Legislature, announced that Delegate Wolf, who has been here some days, refused to appear before the committee.

At about the same hour the Senate Committee decided to send a deputy sergeant-at-arms after Mr. Wolf, the Virginia editor, who made the charges on which Senator Vest demanded the investigation.

The House Committee will likely call an attorney to issue for Wolf, and the Senate official will be expected to have Wolf here soon. So the Capitol of the United States will be turned into an Indian prison, both Wolf and Ivey having, it is understood, Indian blood in their veins.

The investigation by the Senate Committee to-day did not result very satisfactorily. Col. A. Drummond and Mr. Miller of Caldwell, Kan., testified they dealt in plain matters of history, denying any knowledge of fraud. Col. Drummond said to the President's correspondent to-day that he believed Ivey a fraud and a blackmailer, and his stories without foundation.

"The last time I saw him," he said, "he was drunk and wanted to borrow $3 from me. I told him I would give him $3 if he wanted, but he wouldn't loan him the $3. He is evidently a fraud and a blackmailer, and his stories without foundation."

It is reported here to-day that new charges against Gen. Swain have been found and will be filed at him in case of a failure to convict on the present charges.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

A good deal of time was spent in discussing the case of the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

Witness left soon, fearing personal injury. He saw the Irish men, and the marshals, and the Irish men were carrying clubs, such as poles, pipes, and other weapons. He saw no Democrats, but he did not choose to stay in such a place.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch,

PUBLISHED BY THE DISPATCH PUBLISHING CO.

JOSEPH PULTER, President.

(Entered at the Post Office at St. Louis, Mo., as second-class matter.)

TERMS OF THE DAILY.

One year, postage paid..... $9 00
Six months..... 4 50
Three months..... 2 25
One month..... 85
By the week (delivered by carrier)..... 15
Subscribers who fail to receive their paper regularly will confer a favor upon us by reporting the same to this office by postal card.

THE WEEKLY.

One year, postage paid..... $1 00
Six months, postage paid..... 60
All business or news letters or telegrams should be addressed

POST-DISPATCH.

615 and 517 Market street.

BRANCH OFFICES.

1800 CHOUTEAU AV.—H. F. SPILKER, 2791
CHOUTEAU AV.—MRS. F. QUIGLEY, 2796 MARKET
ST.—JACOB BEFFA, 1515 OLIVE ST.—EXPOSITION
PHARMACY, 3240 OLIVE ST.—M. MAHONEY, 1013
GARRISON AV.—BLANCH'S PHARMACY, 2328 CARR
ST.—CHAMBERS, 1106 N. SIXTEENTH ST. JOHN
F. HOWE, 1854 CASS AV.—BENI. PARENTS,
1658 S. JEFFERSON AV., cor. LAFAYETTE—HARRIS
& SMITH, 1380 PARK AV.—J. CALLAGHAN, 2100
SIDNEY ST.—E. DU FOUR, 2101 N. THIRTEENTH
ST.—MRS. ISRAEL.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 8, 1885.

GRANT prefers the chances of an army retiring pension to the certainty of $100,000 in cash. GRANT'S financial judgment does not stand as high as formerly.

If ex-Senator CHAFFIN has any chance for re-election to the Senate the people of Colorado are not what we take them for. A man who has had his eye-teeth cut in Colorado and who allows himself to be done out of all his money by a Wall street clerk is not the man to represent the breezy and expansive West.

The rash, impetuous Globe-Democrat this morning praises CRITTENDEN while his term has yet four days to run. When one thinks of the vast amount of mischief CRITTENDEN can do in four days, it appears much safer to follow the old maxim and praise no one until he is officially dead.

MILLIONAIRE LAMBERT TREE, Democrat, and MILLIONAIRE FARWELL, Republican, both of Chicago, are looting up through the back shadows of the Illinois Senatorial contest. The weather must be very unpropitious when either party undertakes to elect a Senator on a close division without a millionaire hitched somewhere within call.

By honoring LINCOLN, TELLER and CHANDLER in his New Year's calls, and conspicuously avoiding the thresholds of ARTHUR, FRELINGHUYSEN, HATTON and BREWSTER, Mr. BLAINE apparently intends to sprinkle the three first named with the saving blood of the pascal lamb, and to designate the other four for destruction. But the fool-kicker is liable to get in his work on the appointed executors of this new Passover.

We hope Gen. SHERMAN will find time, while in Washington, to unearth that letter from JEFF DAVIS which proves that he wanted to make himself dictator of the Southern Confederacy. And if the General can light upon the documentary evidence convicting ST. JOHN of the charges preferred against him by the Globe-Democrat, our esteemed contemporary will be particularly grateful. Just now it looks as if SHERMAN and the G.-D. were caught in traps of their own setting.

APPROVES of the movement for the pecuniary relief of General GRANT, it may be interesting to remember that when THOMAS JEFFERSON—ruined by the neglect of his private business incident to many years of exclusive devotion to public affairs—asked Congress to purchase his library, that body, very reluctantly, voted $12,000 for what had cost him $30,000, and JEFFERSON was obliged to accept the niggardly offer. BENJAMIN FRANKLIN again and again petitioned Congress for the return of money he had disbursed in the public service while American agent and ambassador at Paris, and never received a single cent. The nation owes the debt to his heirs to this day. GARFIELD and GRANT have fared rather better than JEFFERSON and FRANKLIN.

HAWLEY, defending ARTHUR from the charge of lukewarmness in the late campaign, says the defeat of BLAINE is chargeable to nothing but "the tremendous difficulties that developed themselves" after his nomination. Mr. EVANS, in explaining why he and the Blaine faction in New York quietly permitted such a huge majority to be rolled up against Judge POLGER, says: "I might just as well have addressed a monoword with a view of stopping it." So here was another case of "tremendous difficulties developed" as the consequence of a particular nomination, and in the Folger case they took the form of a coldness, as it were, a disposition to move under a stainless and eminent Republican when election over. CLEVELAND in 1883 would have secured him the nomination over BLAINE in 1884, and made him the President of the United States. In the language of MACNETT, BLAINE may shriek to the ghost of POLGER, "Thou canst not say I did it," but Mr. BLAINE cannot deny that it was done for him by EVANS, ROBERTSON and others of his devoted followers.

EDITOR CLARKSON, the Iowa member of the Republican National Committee, has aggravated the awkwardness of his position with reference to the charges against ST. JOHN by admitting that those charges were not based upon any direct communication by word or letter between ST. JOHN himself, or any official representative of ST. JOHN's party, and the Republican Committee, but on private and confidential communications between CLARKSON and Kansas men who, he says, were authorized to negotiate for ST. JOHN. Although Mr. ST. JOHN has publicly broken all seals of secrecy of whatever nature, and publicly authorized and demanded the publication of all the evidence bearing on the subject, Mr. CLARKSON still refuses to give even the names of the Kansas men whom he refers to as ST. JOHN's authorized agents. This is almost equivalent to a confession that the alleged Kansas men were impostors who dare not face ST. JOHN, or that the alleged negotiation was a miserable attempt to "fake up" some foundation for false charges against him. In other words the accusation has collapsed as ingloriously as CLARKSON'S disproved charges against HATTON, and the pretence of adhering to it reflects more on the sanity of Mr. CLARKSON than on the honesty of ST. JOHN.

SAINT JACKSON'S DAY.

Since the 8th of January, 1815, ANDREW JACKSON has been a secular saint of high repute in the Democratic calendar. He was canonized by a college of cannon, ably assisted by a convocation of rifles; and the bloody battle which sent the flower of WELLINGTON'S peninsular veterans to nameless graves among the ditches and swamps of Chalmers, signed and sealed the victor's certificate of sainthood in the church militant. The day has been duly celebrated by Democrats for sixty-nine years; so that it has come to be regarded as a Democratic anniversary, specially dedicated to a distinguished Democratic soldier and President. And so completely has he monopolized his glorious memories, that the victory which saved New Orleans from an insolent enemy is practically lost and forgotten in the personal fame of the man who, by a happy combination of accidents, commanded the American army. If he had not supplemented a successful military career by an equally successful political one, it is doubtful whether this monopoly could have been an accomplished fact; but such fact it certainly is, and promises to remain until the Democracy as a party organization has perished forever.

Not much of a saint, in the ordinary meaning of the word, was ST. JACKSON. As the old Tennessee preacher—not a friend of his—said: "He kep cocks, and he fit 'em; he kep horses, and he raced 'em; he kep cards, and he played 'em; he kep pistols, and he used 'em." All of which is true, and the clerical critic might have added that, until late in life, he was a most accomplished professor of profanity; a perfect arsenal of oaths, cursing long and long with infinite variety on the slightest provocation. But these are the sum total of his recorded vices. He was faithful and true in all his private and public relations. He was a model of domestic virtue; and for the sake of the plain and unattractive wife, whom he loved with sacred devotion living and dead, all women had a champion in him. He was so honest and honorable that his bitterest foes—and they were not few—never accused him of a mean or a dishonest act. They hated him, and perhaps had sufficient cause for hatred, but they respected him, and he deserved their respect. Upon his patriotism there never was the shadow of spot or blemish. He was a thorough American, of the hardy Western type; and he loved his country, his whole country, with a deep and passionate affection in which selfishness had no place. For her he was willing to bear all and dare all; her glory was his, her shame was his, and to win the glory and spare the shame he thought no price too great to pay. He owed little or nothing to schools or to books, and had only the very smallest quantity of the education which comes from them. It is said that he always believed the world was "flat like a table," and that the sun went over and under the table every twenty-four hours. But in the university of nature and of men he had graduated with highest honors, and trained scholars and diplomats found him more than their match in that broad wisdom and strong common sense which are indispensable to the management of great affairs. He was a born ruler, with more genius for government than all of the hereditary kings that have ever sat upon the thrones of England and France. And, though not infrequently rude in manner as well as in speech, when occasion required none knew better than he how to be a gentleman. "Did you not tell me," said the brilliant and beautiful wife of EDWARD LIVINGSTON to her husband, "that General JACKSON was only a rough and uncouth backwoods soldier? Why, he is the finest gentleman I ever saw!" He divided the honors with ANTON BURN, when the two walked into the Nashville ball-room together; and when he visited Boston on one of his presidential tours, the aristocratic Federalists regarded him as a veritable son of perdition—were forced to exclaim, "Where did he get his magnificent manners?" A lady now residing in St. Louis, who, when a school-girl, was a guest at the White House during JACKSON'S administration, says that of all the eminent men, native and foreign, whom she met in Washington society, the President was incomparably the first and foremost gentleman.

So, taking ANDREW JACKSON for all in all, he makes a very respectable political saint, though we are glad to say he was very far from being a "Christian statesman" of the modern sort; and Democrats who celebrate his anniversary may well be proud of the legacy he has left them, and may find much in his example worthy of close imitation.

Remarkable Success.

From the Chicago Telegram.
Among the larger checks that passed through the New York clearing house December 31 was one for $203,000, drawn by Joseph Pulitzer for the final payment for the New York World, purchased by him about two years ago for the sum of $300,000. The net profits of the World for 1884 are stated at $124,000. The success of Mr. Pulitzer has no parallel in the world's journalism. Purchasing a ragged newspaper plant of little value except for the Associated Press franchise, for a few hundred dollars, in St. Louis about six years ago, he speedily brought it up to a first-class and highly profitable newspaper property. About two years ago he purchased the New York World, as stated, which up to that time had been a losing enterprise, and the result is already before us above shown, and Pulitzer is to-day a millionaire. He has withal been able at the same time to gratify his political ambition, in a measure at least, by being elected to Congress. No such instance of combined newspaper genius and business success has ever before been witnessed in this or any other country.

Ex-Mayor Brown.

From the San Francisco Chronicle.
The papers of St. Louis mention the fact that ex-Mayor Brown of that city is a popular candidate of a large wing of the Democratic party for renomination, on the ground that during the two terms when he was the incumbent of the office he did much to advance the prosperity of St. Louis. Ex-Mayor Brown is well known in this city, where he spent nearly two years winding up the estate of his deceased child, Mrs. Jennie B. Spots. As soon as the extended litigation growing out of the settlement of the estate had terminated, Mayor Brown returned to his Eastern home, where he is at present.

Better than Brilliance.

From the New York World.
Governor Cleveland is not a politician in the accepted sense of the word. He is a plain, blunt, truthful man, whose idea of public duty is based on practical business principles and who frankly says what he means.

One brave, candid declaration from such a man ever reaches the public mind with a force and effect that no brilliant but untruthful politician could achieve. Does not this prove that strong-headed common sense is better than brilliance, and simple truthfulness better than political sharpness?

Mr. Blaine is a shrewd, cunning, skillful politician. He has the power to make a man a millionaire, and he has the power to make a man a pauper. He has the power to make a man a hero, and he has the power to make a man a villain. He has the power to make a man a saint, and he has the power to make a man a sinner. He has the power to make a man a god, and he has the power to make a man a devil. He has the power to make a man a king, and he has the power to make a man a beggar. He has the power to make a man a hero, and he has the power to make a man a villain. He has the power to make a man a saint, and he has the power to make a man a sinner. He has the power to make a man a god, and he has the power to make a man a devil. He has the power to make a man a king, and he has the power to make a man a beggar.

Justice to St. John.
From the New York World.
St. John is being roundly abused by the temperance fanatics, who care more for the reputation of the salubrious of the human family, but the proposition to prove him a mercurial politician seems to drag. The man who has the letters which establish the charge that he offered to take $25,000 from the Republican party and retire from the Presidential field with a sore throat, does not materialize, so to speak. If St. John is as honest a man as he is reputed to be, he is entitled to respect. If he is a corrupt man, the country should know it, and the men who are making ferocious charges against him, should be squeezed until they produce their proofs.

POLITICAL DRIFT.

The minimum estimate of the cost of the New York Senatorship this year is $50,000.
MR. RANDALL, it is said, refused all railroad and sleeping-car passes on his Southern trip. He paid his way.
The Atlanta Constitution calls for an active foreign policy. That means activity in minding our own business as a nation.

MR. RANDALL is back from the South. He probably did me an injury, and will ask you in justice to me to give the best publicity to your views to the simple correction and explanation of the errors very sincerely,
A. RICHARD.
A Card from Mr. John A. Dillon.
In relation to the above note I beg to say that Mr. Richard's explanation is supported in full by the statements of Mrs. Smyth. I have been acquainted with Mr. Richard during his whole residence in St. Louis, and my personal knowledge of his character and his standing justify me in endorsing his explanation and in expressing the wish that his eminent success as a teacher may not be made to suffer in consequence of the shape in which his attempt to secure his manuscript has been placed before the public of St. Louis. He is a very competent scholar and a remarkable teacher, but he is a poor writer. His explanation is a masterpiece of good sense and good faith, and it is to be regretted that it was not published in the Post-Dispatch in its entirety.

chased the New York World, as stated, which up to that time had been a losing enterprise, and the result is already before us above shown, and Pulitzer is to-day a millionaire. He has withal been able at the same time to gratify his political ambition, in a measure at least, by being elected to Congress. No such instance of combined newspaper genius and business success has ever before been witnessed in this or any other country.

Ex-Mayor Brown.

From the San Francisco Chronicle.
The papers of St. Louis mention the fact that ex-Mayor Brown of that city is a popular candidate of a large wing of the Democratic party for renomination, on the ground that during the two terms when he was the incumbent of the office he did much to advance the prosperity of St. Louis. Ex-Mayor Brown is well known in this city, where he spent nearly two years winding up the estate of his deceased child, Mrs. Jennie B. Spots. As soon as the extended litigation growing out of the settlement of the estate had terminated, Mayor Brown returned to his Eastern home, where he is at present.

Better than Brilliance.

From the New York World.
Governor Cleveland is not a politician in the accepted sense of the word. He is a plain, blunt, truthful man, whose idea of public duty is based on practical business principles and who frankly says what he means.

One brave, candid declaration from such a man ever reaches the public mind with a force and effect that no brilliant but untruthful politician could achieve. Does not this prove that strong-headed common sense is better than brilliance, and simple truthfulness better than political sharpness?

Mr. Blaine is a shrewd, cunning, skillful politician. He has the power to make a man a millionaire, and he has the power to make a man a pauper. He has the power to make a man a hero, and he has the power to make a man a villain. He has the power to make a man a saint, and he has the power to make a man a sinner. He has the power to make a man a god, and he has the power to make a man a devil. He has the power to make a man a king, and he has the power to make a man a beggar.

Justice to St. John.
From the New York World.
St. John is being roundly abused by the temperance fanatics, who care more for the reputation of the salubrious of the human family, but the proposition to prove him a mercurial politician seems to drag. The man who has the letters which establish the charge that he offered to take $25,000 from the Republican party and retire from the Presidential field with a sore throat, does not materialize, so to speak. If St. John is as honest a man as he is reputed to be, he is entitled to respect. If he is a corrupt man, the country should know it, and the men who are making ferocious charges against him, should be squeezed until they produce their proofs.

POLITICAL DRIFT.

The minimum estimate of the cost of the New York Senatorship this year is $50,000.
MR. RANDALL, it is said, refused all railroad and sleeping-car passes on his Southern trip. He paid his way.
The Atlanta Constitution calls for an active foreign policy. That means activity in minding our own business as a nation.

MR. RANDALL is back from the South. He probably did me an injury, and will ask you in justice to me to give the best publicity to your views to the simple correction and explanation of the errors very sincerely,
A. RICHARD.
A Card from Mr. John A. Dillon.
In relation to the above note I beg to say that Mr. Richard's explanation is supported in full by the statements of Mrs. Smyth. I have been acquainted with Mr. Richard during his whole residence in St. Louis, and my personal knowledge of his character and his standing justify me in endorsing his explanation and in expressing the wish that his eminent success as a teacher may not be made to suffer in consequence of the shape in which his attempt to secure his manuscript has been placed before the public of St. Louis. He is a very competent scholar and a remarkable teacher, but he is a poor writer. His explanation is a masterpiece of good sense and good faith, and it is to be regretted that it was not published in the Post-Dispatch in its entirety.

chased the New York World, as stated, which up to that time had been a losing enterprise, and the result is already before us above shown, and Pulitzer is to-day a millionaire. He has withal been able at the same time to gratify his political ambition, in a measure at least, by being elected to Congress. No such instance of combined newspaper genius and business success has ever before been witnessed in this or any other country.

Ex-Mayor Brown.
From the San Francisco Chronicle.
The papers of St. Louis mention the fact that ex-Mayor Brown of that city is a popular candidate of a large wing of the Democratic party for renomination, on the ground that during the two terms when he was the incumbent of the office he did much to advance the prosperity of St. Louis. Ex-Mayor Brown is well known in this city, where he spent nearly two years winding up the estate of his deceased child, Mrs. Jennie B. Spots. As soon as the extended litigation growing out of the settlement of the estate had terminated, Mayor Brown returned to his Eastern home, where he is at present.

Better than Brilliance.
From the New York World.
Governor Cleveland is not a politician in the accepted sense of the word. He is a plain, blunt, truthful man, whose idea of public duty is based on practical business principles and who frankly says what he means.

One brave, candid declaration from such a man ever reaches the public mind with a force and effect that no brilliant but untruthful politician could achieve. Does not this prove that strong-headed common sense is better than brilliance, and simple truthfulness better than political sharpness?

Mr. Blaine is a shrewd, cunning, skillful politician. He has the power to make a man a millionaire, and he has the power to make a man a pauper. He has the power to make a man a hero, and he has the power to make a man a villain. He has the power to make a man a saint, and he has the power to make a man a sinner. He has the power to make a man a god, and he has the power to make a man a devil. He has the power to make a man a king, and he has the power to make a man a beggar.

Justice to St. John.
From the New York World.
St. John is being roundly abused by the temperance fanatics, who care more for the reputation of the salubrious of the human family, but the proposition to prove him a mercurial politician seems to drag. The man who has the letters which establish the charge that he offered to take $25,000 from the Republican party and retire from the Presidential field with a sore throat, does not materialize, so to speak. If St. John is as honest a man as he is reputed to be, he is entitled to respect. If he is a corrupt man, the country should know it, and the men who are making ferocious charges against him, should be squeezed until they produce their proofs.

POLITICAL DRIFT.

The minimum estimate of the cost of the New York Senatorship this year is $50,000.
MR. RANDALL, it is said, refused all railroad and sleeping-car passes on his Southern trip. He paid his way.
The Atlanta Constitution calls for an active foreign policy. That means activity in minding our own business as a nation.

MR. RANDALL is back from the South. He probably did me an injury, and will ask you in justice to me to give the best publicity to your views to the simple correction and explanation of the errors very sincerely,
A. RICHARD.
A Card from Mr. John A. Dillon.
In relation to the above note I beg to say that Mr. Richard's explanation is supported in full by the statements of Mrs. Smyth. I have been acquainted with Mr. Richard during his whole residence in St. Louis, and my personal knowledge of his character and his standing justify me in endorsing his explanation and in expressing the wish that his eminent success as a teacher may not be made to suffer in consequence of the shape in which his attempt to secure his manuscript has been placed before the public of St. Louis. He is a very competent scholar and a remarkable teacher, but he is a poor writer. His explanation is a masterpiece of good sense and good faith, and it is to be regretted that it was not published in the Post-Dispatch in its entirety.

chased the New York World, as stated, which up to that time had been a losing enterprise, and the result is already before us above shown, and Pulitzer is to-day a millionaire. He has withal been able at the same time to gratify his political ambition, in a measure at least, by being elected to Congress. No such instance of combined newspaper genius and business success has ever before been witnessed in this or any other country.

Ex-Mayor Brown.
From the San Francisco Chronicle.
The papers of St. Louis mention the fact that ex-Mayor Brown of that city is a popular candidate of a large wing of the Democratic party for renomination, on the ground that during the two terms when he was the incumbent of the office he did much to advance the prosperity of St. Louis. Ex-Mayor Brown is well known in this city, where he spent nearly two years winding up the estate of his deceased child, Mrs. Jennie B. Spots. As soon as the extended litigation growing out of the settlement of the estate had terminated, Mayor Brown returned to his Eastern home, where he is at present.

Better than Brilliance.
From the New York World.
Governor Cleveland is not a politician in the accepted sense of the word. He is a plain, blunt, truthful man, whose idea of public duty is based on practical business principles and who frankly says what he means.

One brave, candid declaration from such a man ever reaches the public mind with a force and effect that no brilliant but untruthful politician could achieve. Does not this prove that strong-headed common sense is better than brilliance, and simple truthfulness better than political sharpness?

Mr. Blaine is a shrewd, cunning, skillful politician. He has the power to make a man a millionaire, and he has the power to make a man a pauper. He has the power to make a man a hero, and he has the power to make a man a villain. He has the power to make a man a saint, and he has the power to make a man a sinner. He has the power to make a man a god, and he has the power to make a man a devil. He has the power to make a man a king, and he has the power to make a man a beggar.

Justice to St. John.
From the New York World.
St. John is being roundly abused by the temperance fanatics, who care more for the reputation of the salubrious of the human family, but the proposition to prove him a mercurial politician seems to drag. The man who has the letters which establish the charge that he offered to take $25,000 from the Republican party and retire from the Presidential field with a sore throat, does not materialize, so to speak. If St. John is as honest a man as he is reputed to be, he is entitled to respect. If he is a corrupt man, the country should know it, and the men who are making ferocious charges against him, should be squeezed until they produce their proofs.

POLITICAL DRIFT.

The minimum estimate of the cost of the New York Senatorship this year is $50,000.
MR. RANDALL, it is said, refused all railroad and sleeping-car passes on his Southern trip. He paid his way.
The Atlanta Constitution calls for an active foreign policy. That means activity in minding our own business as a nation.

MR. RANDALL is back from the South. He probably did me an injury, and will ask you in justice to me to give the best publicity to your views to the simple correction and explanation of the errors very sincerely,
A. RICHARD.
A Card from Mr. John A. Dillon.
In relation to the above note I beg to say that Mr. Richard's explanation is supported in full by the statements of Mrs. Smyth. I have been acquainted with Mr. Richard during his whole residence in St. Louis, and my personal knowledge of his character and his standing justify me in endorsing his explanation and in expressing the wish that his eminent success as a teacher may not be made to suffer in consequence of the shape in which his attempt to secure his manuscript has been placed before the public of St. Louis. He is a very competent scholar and a remarkable teacher, but he is a poor writer. His explanation is a masterpiece of good sense and good faith, and it is to be regretted that it was not published in the Post-Dispatch in its entirety.

chased the New York World, as stated, which up to that time had been a losing enterprise, and the result is already before us above shown, and Pulitzer is to-day a millionaire. He has withal been able at the same time to gratify his political ambition, in a measure at least, by being elected to Congress. No such instance of combined newspaper genius and business success has ever before been witnessed in this or any other country.

Ex-Mayor Brown.
From the San Francisco Chronicle.
The papers of St. Louis mention the fact that ex-Mayor Brown of that city is a popular candidate of a large wing of the Democratic party for renomination, on the ground that during the two terms when he was the incumbent of the office he did much to advance the prosperity of St. Louis. Ex-Mayor Brown is well known in this city, where he spent nearly two years winding up the estate of his deceased child, Mrs. Jennie B. Spots. As soon as the extended litigation growing out of the settlement of the estate had terminated, Mayor Brown returned to his Eastern home, where he is at present.

Better than Brilliance.
From the New York World.
Governor Cleveland is not a politician in the accepted sense of the word. He is a plain, blunt, truthful man, whose idea of public duty is based on practical business principles and who frankly says what he means.

FIDGETY FINANCES.

How Wall Street Expected a Grand Crash Yesterday.

False Rumors Involving Prominent Houses and Leading Capitalists—The Default on Houston and Texas Railroad Coupons—Success of the Huntington Syndicate.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

New York, January 8.—Wall Street was flooded yesterday with rumors of impending disaster. A morning paper, devoted exclusively to Stock Exchange matters, in a double-headed leader, warned its readers to stand firm, as a crash was coming even greater than that of last year. The street was very sensitive now to this kind of report, and when the prediction of the Journal was taken up and repeated by the bears it caused much uneasiness. The prices of all securities declined, and the names of the most prominent houses in the country passed from mouth to mouth as on the verge of bankruptcy. One large banking house was in particular mentioned as tottering to its fall, which, as your correspondent discovered, really was not the case.

THE METROPOLITAN PRESS.

What the Editors of the New York Journals are Saying Today.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.
New York, January 8.—The World says: "There and there a jobber in Democratic politics rises up to say that he has been infuriated by the honest, straightforward programme laid down by President Cleveland. We presume that the up-right element of the Democratic party can continue to say 'I love Mr. Cleveland for the enemies he is now inflicting upon the country.'"

THE SUN.

The Sun says: "If we are ever to have a fair revenue, it must be preceded by the abolition of the internal revenue system, root and branch, stock and fish, head, tail and horse, a teetotal and unqualified abolition."

THE TIMES.

The Times says: "Ex-Senator McDonald of Indiana is of the sound opinion that President Cleveland ought to enforce the civil service law since it is a law, and of the less sound opinion that the law should be enforced. This latter opinion is a mark of the ex-Senator as one of a class of superannuated politicians."

THE TRIBUNE.

The Tribune says: "General Grant's letter, declining the gift which some warm personal friends were about to offer him, will add to the admiration with which his fellow-countrymen already regard him, and if in any heart or mind there had been of late an inclination to criticize some of his recent acts, this note will remove it."

THE REV. MR. RICHARD'S MS.

His Explanation of Its Loss and Recovery.
The Rev. Archibald Richard, whose name was mentioned in the Post-Dispatch yesterday in connection with the efforts of the police to recover valuable property which was missing from his house, makes the following explanation of the case: "St. Louis, January 8, 1885."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I will ask you to do me the simple justice of correcting the mistaken stories which have been published about me in connection with my efforts to recover a manuscript which I supposed had been stolen from my house. From my house, and from the end of it, if the Post-Dispatch had not said in its issue of yesterday that there had been a promise of marriage between me and Miss Smyth, it is wholly erroneous. Mrs. Smyth is my house-keeper, and Miss Smyth (whose sudden departure to visit a sick relative without leaving my check with her, and who is now in St. Louis, and is one of my pupils.

The affair has been magnified in such a way that it might do me an injury, and will ask you in justice to me to give the best publicity to your views to the simple correction and explanation of the errors very sincerely,
A. RICHARD.
A Card from Mr. John A. Dillon.
In relation to the above note I beg to say that Mr. Richard's explanation is supported in full by the statements of Mrs. Smyth. I have been acquainted with Mr. Richard during his whole residence in St. Louis, and my personal knowledge of his character and his standing justify me in endorsing his explanation and in expressing the wish that his eminent success as a teacher may not be made to suffer in consequence of the shape in which his attempt to secure his manuscript has been placed before the public of St. Louis. He is a very competent scholar and a remarkable teacher, but he is a poor writer. His explanation is a masterpiece of good sense and good faith, and it is to be regretted that it was not published in the Post-Dispatch in its entirety.

chased the New York World, as stated, which up to that time had been a losing enterprise, and the result is already before us above shown, and Pulitzer is to-day a millionaire. He has withal been able at the same time to gratify his political ambition, in a measure at least, by being elected to Congress. No such instance of combined newspaper genius and business success has ever before been witnessed in this or any other country.

Ex-Mayor Brown.
From the San Francisco Chronicle.
The papers of St. Louis mention the fact that ex-Mayor Brown of that city is a popular candidate of a large wing of the Democratic party for renomination, on the ground that during the two terms when he was the incumbent of the office he did much to advance the prosperity of St. Louis. Ex-Mayor Brown is well known in this city, where he spent nearly two years winding up the estate of his deceased child, Mrs. Jennie B. Spots. As soon as the extended litigation growing out of the settlement of the estate had terminated, Mayor Brown returned to his Eastern home, where he is at present.

Better than Brilliance.
From the New York World.
Governor Cleveland is not a politician in the accepted sense of the word. He is a plain, blunt, truthful man, whose idea of public duty is based on practical business principles and who frankly says what he means.

One brave, candid declaration from such a man ever reaches the public mind with a force and effect that no brilliant but untruthful politician could achieve. Does not this prove that strong-headed common sense is better than brilliance, and simple truthfulness better than political sharpness?

Mr. Blaine is a shrewd, cunning, skillful politician. He has the power to make a man a millionaire, and he has the power to make a man a pauper. He has the power to make a man a hero, and he has the power to make a man a villain. He has the power to make a man a saint, and he has the power to make a man a sinner. He has the power to make a man a god, and he has the power to make a man a devil. He has the power to make a man a king, and he has the power to make a man a beggar.

Justice to St. John.
From the New York World.
St. John is being roundly abused by the temperance fanatics, who care more for the reputation of the salubrious of the human family, but the proposition to prove him a mercurial politician seems to drag. The man who has the letters which establish the charge that he offered to take $25,000 from the Republican party and retire from the Presidential field with a sore throat, does not materialize, so to speak. If St. John is as honest a man as he is reputed to be, he is entitled to respect. If he is a corrupt man, the country should know it, and the men who are making ferocious charges against him, should be squeezed until they produce their proofs.

POLITICAL DRIFT.

The minimum estimate of the cost of the New York Senatorship this year is $50,000.
MR. RANDALL, it is said, refused all railroad and sleeping-car passes on his Southern trip. He paid his way.
The Atlanta Constitution calls for an active foreign policy. That means activity in minding our own business as a nation.

MR. RANDALL is back from the South. He probably did me an injury, and will ask you in justice to me to give the best publicity to your views to the simple correction and explanation of the errors very sincerely,
A. RICHARD.
A Card from Mr. John A. Dillon.
In relation to the above note I beg to say that Mr. Richard's explanation is supported in full by the statements of Mrs. Smyth. I have been acquainted with Mr. Richard during his whole residence in St. Louis, and my personal knowledge of his character and his standing justify me in endorsing his explanation and in expressing the wish that his eminent success as a teacher may not be made to suffer in consequence of the shape in which his attempt to secure his manuscript has been placed before the public of St. Louis. He is a very competent scholar and a remarkable teacher, but he is a poor writer. His explanation is a masterpiece of good sense and good faith, and it is to be regretted that it was not published in the Post-Dispatch in its entirety.

chased the New York World, as stated, which up to that time had been a losing enterprise, and the result is already before us above shown, and Pulitzer is to-day a millionaire. He has

JEFFERSON JOTTINGS.

Some Gossip Gleaned at the State Capital.

Three Important Pardons Wanted—Mr. Chesney, Russell Brown and Pat McGlew. The anxious ones—The Row in the St. Louis Delegation—Notes and Personal Sketches.

Jefferson City, Mo., January 7.—The fight in the St. Louis delegation goes on. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet.

Jefferson City, Mo., January 7.—The fight in the St. Louis delegation goes on. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet.

Jefferson City, Mo., January 7.—The fight in the St. Louis delegation goes on. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet.

Jefferson City, Mo., January 7.—The fight in the St. Louis delegation goes on. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet.

Jefferson City, Mo., January 7.—The fight in the St. Louis delegation goes on. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet.

Jefferson City, Mo., January 7.—The fight in the St. Louis delegation goes on. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet.

Jefferson City, Mo., January 7.—The fight in the St. Louis delegation goes on. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet.

Jefferson City, Mo., January 7.—The fight in the St. Louis delegation goes on. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet.

Jefferson City, Mo., January 7.—The fight in the St. Louis delegation goes on. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet.

Jefferson City, Mo., January 7.—The fight in the St. Louis delegation goes on. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet.

Jefferson City, Mo., January 7.—The fight in the St. Louis delegation goes on. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet.

Jefferson City, Mo., January 7.—The fight in the St. Louis delegation goes on. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet.

Jefferson City, Mo., January 7.—The fight in the St. Louis delegation goes on. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet.

Jefferson City, Mo., January 7.—The fight in the St. Louis delegation goes on. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet.

circulating among his friends here is Walker Crum. Judge John L. Best of St. Genevieve is here. Judge John L. Best of St. Genevieve is here. Judge John L. Best of St. Genevieve is here.

The Senate and House bill in their respective bodies for United States Senator on the second Tuesday. The Senate and House bill in their respective bodies for United States Senator on the second Tuesday.

Some of the new members of the St. Louis delegation are perfect magicians of harmony. The Apollo-like Castellan has elegant apartments. The Apollo-like Castellan has elegant apartments. The Apollo-like Castellan has elegant apartments.

The Democratic Representative held his regular caucus last night. Dr. D. R. Shields presiding. A resolution was passed inviting the Senate to meet in joint session with the House on the 15th inst.

Jefferson City, Mo., January 7.—The fight in the St. Louis delegation goes on. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet.

Jefferson City, Mo., January 7.—The fight in the St. Louis delegation goes on. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet.

Jefferson City, Mo., January 7.—The fight in the St. Louis delegation goes on. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet.

Jefferson City, Mo., January 7.—The fight in the St. Louis delegation goes on. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet.

Jefferson City, Mo., January 7.—The fight in the St. Louis delegation goes on. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet.

Jefferson City, Mo., January 7.—The fight in the St. Louis delegation goes on. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet.

Jefferson City, Mo., January 7.—The fight in the St. Louis delegation goes on. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet.

Jefferson City, Mo., January 7.—The fight in the St. Louis delegation goes on. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet.

Jefferson City, Mo., January 7.—The fight in the St. Louis delegation goes on. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet. The fight is not over yet.

LUTZ MUST GO.

And Mr. Caruth's Resignation is a Desirable Thing.

Governor-Elect Marmaduke Declares Himself in Favor of Police Board Affairs—He Says the Issue Was Made by the Other Side—His Conversation With Silver.

A telegram from Jefferson City published in yesterday's Post-Dispatch described a conversation between Governor-Elect Marmaduke and Ed. P. Silver, the brother-in-law of Police Commissioner Lutz, in which General Marmaduke was stated to have suddenly and emphatically remarked that he would not have Silver as a member of the Police Board.

The Governor-Elect was not to be found yesterday, but a Post-Dispatch reporter called at his residence early this morning at the Hotel Pomeroy, on Lucas avenue, and sent up Mr. Lutz, which met with an invitation to come up at once, although General Marmaduke had not yet completed his toilet.

The Governor-Elect was not to be found yesterday, but a Post-Dispatch reporter called at his residence early this morning at the Hotel Pomeroy, on Lucas avenue, and sent up Mr. Lutz, which met with an invitation to come up at once, although General Marmaduke had not yet completed his toilet.

The Governor-Elect was not to be found yesterday, but a Post-Dispatch reporter called at his residence early this morning at the Hotel Pomeroy, on Lucas avenue, and sent up Mr. Lutz, which met with an invitation to come up at once, although General Marmaduke had not yet completed his toilet.

The Governor-Elect was not to be found yesterday, but a Post-Dispatch reporter called at his residence early this morning at the Hotel Pomeroy, on Lucas avenue, and sent up Mr. Lutz, which met with an invitation to come up at once, although General Marmaduke had not yet completed his toilet.

The Governor-Elect was not to be found yesterday, but a Post-Dispatch reporter called at his residence early this morning at the Hotel Pomeroy, on Lucas avenue, and sent up Mr. Lutz, which met with an invitation to come up at once, although General Marmaduke had not yet completed his toilet.

The Governor-Elect was not to be found yesterday, but a Post-Dispatch reporter called at his residence early this morning at the Hotel Pomeroy, on Lucas avenue, and sent up Mr. Lutz, which met with an invitation to come up at once, although General Marmaduke had not yet completed his toilet.

The Governor-Elect was not to be found yesterday, but a Post-Dispatch reporter called at his residence early this morning at the Hotel Pomeroy, on Lucas avenue, and sent up Mr. Lutz, which met with an invitation to come up at once, although General Marmaduke had not yet completed his toilet.

The Governor-Elect was not to be found yesterday, but a Post-Dispatch reporter called at his residence early this morning at the Hotel Pomeroy, on Lucas avenue, and sent up Mr. Lutz, which met with an invitation to come up at once, although General Marmaduke had not yet completed his toilet.

The Governor-Elect was not to be found yesterday, but a Post-Dispatch reporter called at his residence early this morning at the Hotel Pomeroy, on Lucas avenue, and sent up Mr. Lutz, which met with an invitation to come up at once, although General Marmaduke had not yet completed his toilet.

The Governor-Elect was not to be found yesterday, but a Post-Dispatch reporter called at his residence early this morning at the Hotel Pomeroy, on Lucas avenue, and sent up Mr. Lutz, which met with an invitation to come up at once, although General Marmaduke had not yet completed his toilet.

In his power could separate the young couple, he telegraphed here that his son should never inherit a fortune. It was the receipt of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch that led young Robinson to leave Troy and go to New York.

OUR NEIGHBORS. Interesting Personal, Social and News Gossip from the Neighboring Towns. Special Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., January 8.—J. T. Atkins was arrested before he could leave the city for maintaining a gambling house, under the Johnson law, and was falling to wait the action of the Grand Jury.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., January 7.—The Knights Templar of the general knights, surprised anything of the kind ever undertaken herebefore. The Gem City Club of Quincy gave a grand and enjoyable concert at the Christian Church Tuesday night.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., January 7.—A suit for $200,000 was filed in the St. Louis court by James D. Jones against Judge John A. Durbin, Chief Justice of the Missouri Supreme Court, and Wood County.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., January 7.—A convention of presidents of various school districts in this county was held yesterday for the purpose of adopting a new constitution. No change from the books now in use was made.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., January 7.—The St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., January 7.—The St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., January 7.—The St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., January 7.—The St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., January 7.—The St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., January 7.—The St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., January 7.—The St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., January 7.—The St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory and the St. Charles Rock Factory.

GREAT CLEARING REMNANT SALE TO MORROW.

All Remnants at less than CLEARING SALE PRICES, which means in some cases about ONE-QUARTER of the regular prices.

SPECIAL BARGAINS IN EVERY DEPARTMENT ALL DAY FRIDAY.

B. N. GENT & CO.

815, 817, 819, 821 N. Broadway, between Franklin Av. and Union Market.

AMUSEMENTS.

OLYMPIC.

M. B. CURTIS.

In His Latest and Greatest Success.

SPOT CASH.

Or Samuel of Posen on the Road.

Next week—J. K. ENNETT.

PEOPLE'S THEATER.

To-night, every night this week and Saturday Matinee, the Greatest Modern Dramatic Success.

SILVER KING.

With the original cast and grand scenic effects.

Monday, January 11.—The Roman Empire.

POPE'S.

To-night and all week. Matinee Saturday.

SHOOK & COLLIER'S.

STORM-BEATEN COMBINATION.

SUNDAY, January 11.—Bijou Opera Company in Orpheus and Eurydice.

STANDARD THEATER.

Greatest of all the Mulligan Series.

Every Evening at 8. Matinee at 2 p. m. Matinee Wed.

M. W. HANLEY'S COMPANY.

Presenting Edward Harrigan's greatest success.

DAN'S TRIBULATIONS.

Which enjoyed a run of six months at Harrigan's.

CASTING.

Ladies' Matinee. To-day at 2:30.

Prices 25 and 15c.

NEW DIME MUSEUM.

North Sixth Street, near Franklin avenue.

MISS LUCIA ZARATE.

She is the Smallest Person on earth. Age, 31; weight, 46 pounds; height, 1 foot 2 inches.

Mercentile Library Hall.

Friday Evening, January 9.

Saturday Matinee, January 10.

And Saturday Evening, January 10.

MARK TWAIN.

At a reading of his own superb story, and Mr. Twain's.

GEORGE W. CABLE.

the distinguished Southern novelist, presenting his own matches scenes.

To Appear Together.

Mark Twain's world famous humor and pathos.

A combination of genius and versatility that appeals to the intellect and the emotions.

Reserved seats, 5c.

Star Roller Skating Rink.

CORNER OF NINETEENTH AND PINE STS.

Nineteenth Building (all new skates) come meet the right of admission to all objectionable parties.

Morning, 10c; afternoon, 15c; evening, 20c.

CHAS. SMELSER, Manager.

Radiant Home.

Base Burger Stores.

RINGEN STOVE CO.

808 N. Fourth St.

HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTING.

MULLEN & HOPPIUS PAINTING CO.

114 Olive Street.

Prof. Matthews' Old Established DYE WORKS.

No. 312 Olive Street.

GENTLEMEN'S CLOTHING RE-COLORED, ALTERED AND REPAIRED.

In best style. Orders by express promptly attended to.

WINTER RESORTS.

HAMILTON HOTEL, BERMUDA.

Most deliciously located, commanding an extensive view of the harbor and islands. Enlarged by a new wing four stories high, new dining room, new bath, new electric light and water system, and electric bells, and a new and modern conveniences. Open for the season November 1st, 1884. Climate perfect; climate unexcelled. The hotel is situated on a beautiful spot, and the view is a most beautiful one. CHAS. G. BROWN, Proprietor.

CHAS. GULATH, APOTHECARY.

Paints, Oils, Varnishes, Window Glass, Etc.

Direct Importer of Rhine Wines.

No. 2015 S. BROADWAY.

LOW PRICES.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

100 bottles of Jacob's Oil, 10c.

